

Name: _____

Twelve-Tone Retrograde

Using the twelve-tone scale, compose your own twelve-tone song using retrograde. Before you begin your song, you must write out a tone row.

Your song must:

- be at least 8 measures long
- be in 4/4 time
- use all twelve tones
- show use of retrograde

he 12-tone scale:

A five-line musical staff with a treble clef. The notes are written as circles with stems, and accidentals are placed to the left of the notes. The notes from left to right are: C (no accidental), D (flat), E (no accidental), F (flat), G (no accidental), A (no accidental), B (sharp), C (no accidental), D (flat), E (flat), F (flat), G (no accidental).

Tone Row:

A five-line musical staff with a treble clef, completely empty for writing a tone row.

A five-line musical staff with a treble clef. The first measure contains a handwritten '4', likely indicating a 4/4 time signature.

A five-line musical staff with a treble clef. The first measure contains a handwritten '4', likely indicating a 4/4 time signature.